

The IFN- γ -CXCL9/CXCL10-JAK/STAT pathway is now considered the central immune pathway in vitiligo, leading to the development of targeted JAK inhibitors.

